

Drinking & Driving

Missouri's DWI Law

One simple statement says it all -- if you drink and drive in Missouri, you will pay. Missouri is not going to tolerate people being injured or killed by drunk drivers.

"ABUSE AND LOSE! ZERO TOLERANCE!"

This is how Missouri feels about under-age drinking and getting behind the wheel of a motor vehicle after you have been drinking.

The law is strict and to the point -- DO NOT DRINK AND DRIVE.

If a law enforcement officer has reason to suspect the driver of a motor vehicle is driving under the influence of alcohol, field sobriety tests may be administered. Based upon the driver's performance of these tests, the officer will determine whether or not to arrest the driver for Driving While Intoxicated (DWI). The driver will be required to submit to either a breath or blood test to determine Blood

Alcohol Concentration (BAC). If the driver is arrested, the following will happen:

- Searched, handcuffed, taken to jail, photographed, fingerprinted, and bonded.
- Immediate suspension of Driver's License for 30 days if test results are .08% or more; must give license to arresting officer.
- If convicted of DWI, eight points will be assessed against your license.

License will be revoked for one year if you have accumulated a total of:

- 12 points in 12-month period.
- 18 points in 24-month period.
- 24 points in 36-month period.
- 12 points are assessed for a second and subsequent conviction of an alcohol-related offense.
- Any level of impairment may result in charges of DWI. BAC level of .08 percent or above, however, is prima facie evidence of intoxication under MO law.
- A refusal to take a test will automatically result in your license being revoked for one year.

Affects of Alcohol When Driving

➤ Reaction Time- reaction time occurs at low BAC levels.

➤ Judgement- that's why so many drivers make the wrong decision to drive after drinking. Judgement is the first thing to be affected by alcohol.

➤ Tracking- weaving from one side of the road to the other; inability to follow the path of the road.

➤ Vision- when drinking, an individual can lose his or her ability to perceive details in an object in motion; loss of control of eye movement.

➤ Comprehension- perceiving hazards and/or processing information while driving is impaired when alcohol is involved.

➤ Coordination- motor skills of individuals with alcohol in their blood are lessened.

➤ Road Test Performance- functions of driving such as steering, braking, speed control, etc., are impaired when under the influence of alcohol.

➤ Emergency Response- while drivers with alcohol in their blood may handle some driving skills, ability to respond to emergency situations is limited.

Financial Burden of DWI Conviction

The cost associated with a DWI conviction can be overwhelming. The following are agencies and people who must be dealt with and require a fee for the service provided:

Missouri's "Zero Tolerance" Law

- ☛ Successfully complete a Substance Abuse Traffic Offender Program (SATOP). An offender is required to pay the cost of attending the class plus an additional $60 fee to the Department of Mental Health.
